

BELT LINE

Livingston County Ore. Fields to Be Encircled by Railroads.

THE CARRSVILLE-SALEM LINE

Mr. I. W. Newcomer, of Cleveland, Now There at Work—A Road Proposed to Touch Smithland.

DEVELOPMENTS ARE REPORTED

A belt of railroads is to encircle the ore fields of Livingston county. Mr. I. W. Newcomer and a corps of stenographers and clerks are now at Salem, Livingston county, working on the survey of the railroad to be built from Salem to Carrsville. Mr. Newcomer is president of the Ohio Construction and Finance company, of Cleveland, and is a gentleman of wealth and great business capacity.

The road from Salem to Carrsville is a sure go, but that is not the best thing that is in store for the people of Livingston.

From some point on the proposed line from Salem to Carrsville, another road will be built, which will go to Smithland and Grand Rivers, completely enclosing the great ore lands, and connecting many of the towns with each other.

With the two rivers connected by a railroad, with transfer boats at each line, the business of that section will soon be such as to build up the country with great rapidity.

The new road from Salem to Carrsville, touching Smithland and Grand Rivers, will depend largely on the Salem-Carrsville road, which is an assured thing, but it is practically settled that the Smithland road will also be built.

Mr. Newcomer is a promoter of enterprises and has much money behind him. He is accomplishing much in Livingston county, and with his experience and resources will soon convert that section into one of the busiest and most thriving localities in the state.

MORNING BLAZE

The Corbett Residence, on North Seventh Street, Damaged.

The Fire Originated From a Defective Flue in the Rear of the House.

The fire department was called to the frame residence of Mrs. Mary Corbett, at Seventh and Clay streets at 7:30 o'clock this morning to extinguish a dangerous blaze that had gained considerable headway before it was observed by some one at Hank's drug store, across the street.

An alarm was turned in and the work of getting out furniture actively prosecuted until it was nearly all saved. Mrs. Austin Tyndall and wife and daughter occupied the house alone. Mrs. Corbett and daughter having begun boarding. Mrs. Tyndall had built a small fire in her room, and the sparks must have caught the roof near the flue, as it was the only fire about the place.

The fire department saved most of the house, the second story, however, being badly damaged. The loss will amount to perhaps $500, fully covered by insurance.

The fire department was late in arriving, because the alarm box was out of order, and they thought when the alarm was turned in that it was only the crossing of wires. An alarm by telephone brought them a short time afterward.

KIDNAPPER CAUGHT.

HE WANTED $1500 BUT THE BOY ESCAPED AND HE WAS ARRESTED.

Great Falls, Mont., Nov. 1.—John Southwick, a twelve year old boy who had doubtless been reading about the recent abduction of a ransom, kidnapped the six year old son of G. W. Ryan, a prominent grocer, and demanded $1500 ransom. The boy escaped and Southwick was arrested.

MAY BOMBARD POST WAR IS

France Demands Pay of Turkey or She Will Fight—Three Days Grace.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The officials of the French foreign office confirm the report that a division of the French Mediterranean fleet, composed of three battleships and two cruisers under the command of Admiral Caillaud, has proceeded from Toulon to the Levant to make a naval demonstration against Turkey.

The decision to make a naval demonstration against Turkey was taken at a meeting of the cabinet Tuesday at which M. Delcasse, the minister of foreign affairs, explained the sultan's procrastination regarding the French demands.

Admiral Caillaud's squadron consists of the armored cruisers Admiral Potin, Chanay and La Toucheville, the second class cruisers Du Chayla and Cassard and the third class cruiser Galilee. The crews aggregate 2,288 men, but the vessels will also carry landing parties.

THE TOWN COW.

Many Victims of Last Night's Pranks Reported Today.

Gates Removed and Town Cows Galore Were Waiting to Enjoy Themselves.

Hallowe'en seems to have been pretty well celebrated last night, and scores of gates were missing this morning when people arose from their night's repose. Some of the gates, the lighter ones, were carried far away, while even the heaviest did not entirely escape the festive crowds that went about bent on fun and mischief.

As a result the town cows had many fine yards at their mercy. There were walls of indignation from every part of the city this morning and the police were unable to afford anyone much comfort or relief. Many yards that yesterday were filled with beautiful and costly plants and flowers were devastated beyond repair at daybreak.

Mr. S. A. Fowler, who resides on Broadway near Ninth, found six cows in his yard, and they had almost destroyed several fine peach trees that he had been cultivating with great care for five years past, and for which he would not have taken fifty dollars each. It will require three years to place them in the same condition they were last night before Mr. Fowler's gate was removed by some of the Hallowe'en marauders.

The police cannot prevent such pranks. The young people in most instances may mean no harm, but last night's work shows that they did considerable.

One gentleman who lives near Eighteenth and Tennessee streets, reports that seventeen buggies and wagons were heaped in one pile, and it took until 9 o'clock this morning to get them straightened out.

One gate was hung on top of a telephone post on West Jackson street and in many cases the owners have not yet found their gates. An iron gate still leans against a telephone post at Sixth and Broadway awaiting an owner.

"A THOROUGHbred TRAMP."

LARGE AUDIENCE APPLAUDS THE SCENIC PRODUCTION AT THE GRAND.

There was a large and enthusiastic Sunday night house at the Grand opera house last night. The attraction was "A Thoroughbred Tramp," presented by John J. Smartwood and company. It is always better to measure the merits of a performance by the manner in which it is received by the audience. Gaudy by that standard "A Thoroughbred Tramp" was beyond expectations.

The play is a strange mixture of comedy and drama, with an occasional dash of tragedy to relieve the monotony. The central figure is T. Rush Thompson, P. B., who is put down on the list as a "peripatetic peddler." There is a murder in the story and several startling denouements and the public excitement is fed at various intervals with thrilling climaxes. "A Thoroughbred Tramp" claims to be a scenic production and it fully supports this title. The train scene in the third act was particularly hair-raising and there were half a dozen scenes which partook of the element of the sensational.—Shreveport Times.

POLICY HOLDERS LIABLE.

LATEST FREAK CLAIM OF THE FRANKFORT GANG.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 1.—Auditor Conlter will institute suits against several mutual fire insurance companies to recover state taxes. He holds that Kentucky policy holders are liable for taxation. There are thousands of policy holders all over the state who would be affected by such a claim if sustained in the courts.

The animal show at Ninth and Broadway is something very fine. Every one should go for tomorrow is the last day. If you don't go you will miss a fine treat.

BRILLIANT EVENT

Mrs. C. E. Whitesides Entertained in Honor of Visitors Yesterday.

Paducah Society Greatly Enjoyed the Magnificent Reception at Her Pretty Home.

Mrs. C. E. Whitesides was at home to some 150 callers yesterday afternoon to meet Mrs. Victor Voris, bride of Dr. Voris and Mrs. A. J. D. Whitesides and Mrs. H. B. Essex of Indianapolis, who are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Cave announced the callers and the hostess presented them to her guests of honor.

Mrs. C. E. Whitesides was organ-die over taffeta; Mrs. A. D. Whitesides a grey reception gown embellished in lace and velvet; Mrs. Voris a Parisian gown of cream renaissance lace over yellow satin; Mrs. Essex, all black net over taffeta, blue egret in pompadour; Mrs. Charles Kiger ushered the guests into the dining room. She wore a liberty satin in cream, covered in spangled tulle. The dining room excited much admiration, as it was rich in autumn leaves, the walls being entirely covered in those glowing colors. The table where Mrs. Wynne Tully and Mrs. James Clements served, the ices and chocolate, which were also in the fall shades, was ornamented with bride roses, resting on a mirror. Ribbons in the four autumn shades came in festoons from the galler to the corners of the table; bonbon in orange and brown, crimson and green were in dainty dishes on the side board which was made still handsomer by candles in shaded globes. Miss Mary K. Sowell and Miss Elizabeth Sinnott served in this room. Miss Carrie Rieks presided over the punch table in an ornate nook most effective with cushions, palms and flowers galore, where an Egyptian lamp gave a charmingly artistic and realistic touch. A full orchestra made delightful music during the afternoon. It was one of the most beautiful and elaborate functions in Paducah's social history.

HARD LUCK.

KENTUCKY BOY RELEASED AND THEN REARRESTED IMMEDIATELY.

Jim Pritchett, one of the Graves county boys charged with shooting Constable Grant Rankin back of Brookport, Ill., several weeks ago, is perhaps sorry he went to the trouble to give bond at Metropolis yesterday. The amount was $500, which his father put up in cash.

Sheriff Lee Wallace, of Benton, Marshall county, was on hand when the prisoner was released and rearrested him for detaining a woman against her will. He thought at first he would resist it and demand a requisition, but finally decided to go to Benton without one, and his father went with him and said he would give the bond there also, amounting to $200.

ALL SAINTS DAY.

OBSERVED AT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH THIS MORNING.

This is All Saints' Day, and it has been appropriately observed at the Catholic church. Services were held as on Sunday, and tomorrow will be All Soul's day, and also observed.

These will be more elaborately commemorated Sunday afternoon, however, when Rev. Father Jansen, accompanied by the congregation of the St. Francis De Sales church, will go to the graveyard and hold special services.

—There will be a musicale at Trimble street Methodist church to-night. No admittance charged at door, but every one is expected to bring as many pennies as they think the pastor is years old; will also have some nice recitations.

LIBRARY MEETING.

THIS EVENING THERE WILL BE ANOTHER CONFERENCE AT THE PALMER.

Tonight all those interested in the public library project will meet at the Palmer house, and a large attendance is anticipated. It is probable that a library association will be formed. Options on several sites have been secured, but nothing definite has yet been decided in regard to the most desirable location.

Among the proposed sites are the one at Ninth and Broadway, one at Fifth and Jefferson and one at Seventh and Jefferson, the Willett's lively stable site, and perhaps others.

Everybody is invited to attend the meeting.

SCHOOL NOTES.

MUSIC FOR HIGH SCHOOL EXPECTED—OTHER NEWS.

The music for the High school has been ordered and will probably arrive in the city next week. A regular book will be used in the ninth grade but a course of sheet, vocal, music will be placed in the tenth and eleventh grades.

At the meeting of the board next Tuesday the matter of the purchase of a piano for the High school will be taken up and acted upon. Last year $60 was expended in the rental of a piano and it is the general opinion that it will be economy to purchase one.

The one hundred and twenty-five new primary desks, ordered for the schools, have arrived and are being placed in the new room at the Washington building. Monday the first grade will be divided and Miss Mabel Mitchell will be installed in the new room. The division was ordered several weeks ago but on account of the non-arrival of the desks the division was delayed.

Tomorrow the teachers will have their regular monthly meeting and after the reports have been made will take up their historical work for the year.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

REV. PERRYMAN TALKS SUNDAY—BASKET BALL TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED.

Rev. Geo. W. Perryman will talk on the subject, "David," at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon to the men at 4 o'clock. He has prepared a very fine address and the attendance will be very large, it is promised.

The penmanship and bookkeeping classes will meet tonight. There will also be a gymnasium field day practice tonight and all who intend to participate in the sports are requested to attend the practice.

There will be no more basket ball at the association until after Thanksgiving day. There was a fair attendance at the business men's class meeting last night considering the fact that it was nearing the first of the month, which is always a busy time for all business men.

The boys will meet this afternoon, after school, to practice for the field day exercises.

GOOD INDIANS NOW

FIFTEEN KILLED IN A BATTLE WITH MEXICANS IN ARIZONA.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 1.—There is trouble between Mexicans and Indians here and in this section. In a battle yesterday between Mexican soldiers and Yaqui Indians, fifteen Indians were killed, and it is feared that more bloodshed will follow.
